Councilwoman Soria Launches District 1's Young Councilmember Program

FRESNO –Fresno City Councilwoman Esmeralda Soria launches District 1's Young Councilmember Program. The 2017 class is composed of 10 students currently attending school at Central High School, Fresno High School, and Bullard High School.

The Young Councilmember Program brings together select young people throughout City of Fresno Council District One to be a part of a cohort developing leadership skills. The program will educate and challenge participants in their understanding of community, agriculture, business, technology, law enforcement, and medicine.

Councilwoman Soria stated “I am so excited to launch our first class of the Young Councilmember Program, which is designed to provide high school students with unique opportunities about potential career and educational paths. The program is focused on exploring the industries and professions that are critical to our local and state economies, learning about local government and developing the next generation of Fresno leaders.”

Young Councilmembers Class of 2017

Harleen Gill, Savanah Bazley, Bikramjit Gill, Angelina Her, Jordan Lor, Christian Power, Simran Kaur, Rupinder Kaur, Jazmin Leon, Lindsay Norton
