EMERGENCY SERVICES COMMUNICATIONS SUPERVISOR

DEFINITION

Under direction, supervises personnel in the Police Department engaged in dispatching public safety personnel and equipment.

SUPERVISION RECEIVED/EXERCISED

Receives supervision from the Communications Bureau Commander.
Supervises Emergency Services Dispatchers I, II, and III and other subordinate personnel.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS

Emergency Services Communications Supervisor is the first-line supervisory level in the Emergency Services Dispatcher series. On an assigned shift, incumbents plan, schedule, and supervise the activities of subordinates involved in dispatching police emergency and non-emergency calls. This class is distinguished from Emergency Services Communications Manager in that the incumbent of the latter is responsible for managing the overall multi-shift operations of the Communications Bureau. It is distinguished from Emergency Services Dispatcher III in that the latter is the advanced working/lead level class in which incumbents train dispatchers in the use and operation of the multi-channel radio and Computer-Assisted Dispatch (CAD) system console and related equipment. Incumbents in this class will be assigned to work a ten hour period and are subject to work weekends, holidays, and management-directed overtime as needed.
